The Foreign Language Department experienced great growth this year. In order to create better foreign language communications skills, we implemented several new programs. THE YEAR IN REVIEW

Homecoming is the social highlight of the year for many Mission students. Large numbers of students from each class level unite to show their spirit. Pictured here is spirited senior Robert Bist.

Winning this year's class competition was the senior class, whose theme was the 1920's. Here Steve Gallup, Rob Heuser, Drew Calvert, Mike Suple, and Ramier Poquiz surround Farzad Lahijani, who is playing the role of Al Capone.

One of the knacks required for winning the class competition is to locate readily available, cheap costumes for all class members to wear — like Burger King crowns. This one is on the head of Jackie Campbell.

FRESHMAN ORIENTATION

The marquee alerts students that another school year is about to begin.

Even before that much dreaded September 4th had arrived, the Freshman class and all new students found themselves on the MSJ campus attending an informative Orientation program. Another new addition to Mission, Principal Sharon Belshaw-Jones welcomed them. The Freshman Orientation included an introduction of numerous administrators and a brief tour given by the Leadership Council. With this brief introduction to Mission San Jose, the new students were ready to take on the coming school year.

Freshman Melinda Au considers the list of candidates in her class election.

EGG TOSS

APPLE BOBBING

Tara Moore and a wet Heath Quimby carefully pass the apple.

AIR BAND COMPETITION

Lead vocalists, Deanna Kegel and Stacey Heiserman sing the song "Give Me Back My Man" to an excited crowd.

HOMECOMING - SENIOR

FIRST PLACE

Doug Hattori: suffering from the traditional homecoming lack of sleep.

The Class of 1986 captured its second homecoming crown in three years with its theme "The Twenties." Hours of preparation and good leadership led to a fine performance during their skit. The Seniors boasted many outstanding props including a life-sized replica of Charles Lindberg's Spirit of St. Louis. The class also showed a great deal of unity on Green and White Day when many of them could be seen attired in green "Twenties" shirts with a Burger King crown on their heads.

The Class of 1986 left their homecoming experiences with much to be proud of: They had accomplished the remarkable feat of winning the Spirit Week trophy twice during their stay at Mission.

The senior class, dressed up as gangsters, does its best to outshoot the competition during a homecoming rally.

Paul Banducci, Cecil Markely, Jim Snell, Ross, Chan, and Phil Gall pause for a drink during the senior skit.

Mindy Bolar, Tracy Fujiwara, Kristen Polverosa, Stacy Whitgreen, and Stephanie Sargent display their 1920's fashions.

HOMECOMING - JUNIOR

SECOND PLACE

Star kicker Ray "Bigbootee" Bobbit prepares to kick a supposed "forty kilogram stainless steel ball."

Juniors Kerri Winters, Julianna Spisak, Kristie MacWilliams, and Jessica Galbraith show off their medical wear as part of their class's hospital day.

The Juniors displayed many spectacular props, including this enormous box of band-aids.

This year proved to be the year in which the Class of 1987 awoke and exemplified its true spirit and unity. After two disappointing years as the fourth place finisher in Homecoming, the Junior class met great success with their theme "Junior Hospital." They entertained the rest of the student body with a spectacular skit concluding with a dance to the tune of "Mission Impossible." With such fine props as an Ambulance, a fifteen foot tall hospital, and a life-like surgeon, the Juniors almost took first place, finishing a close second to the senior class.

With the confidence and experience of this year, the Class of 1987 looks forward to victory in next year's Homecoming.

Thanks to Juniortol, the class of '87 forgot the weaknesses of the past two years and vaulted into a second place finish.

The class of 1987 shows its spirit in an early morning rally dedicated to the hospital theme.

HOMECOMING - SOPHOMORE

THIRD PLACE

Claudia Angst portrays a cool, calm, and collected prison inmate.

This year a Sophomore Class presented the theme "Jail" during Spirit Week. Led by class President Tracey Campbell, the Class of '88' built many excellent props including an enormous Jailhouse. Their skit was very successful and was ended with a formation of two large eight's promoting their class.

Although disappointed with their third place finish, they knew that they had done an outstanding job. With this year's performance, the Class of 1988 knew they would be the class to be reckoned with in the future.

FOURTH PLACE

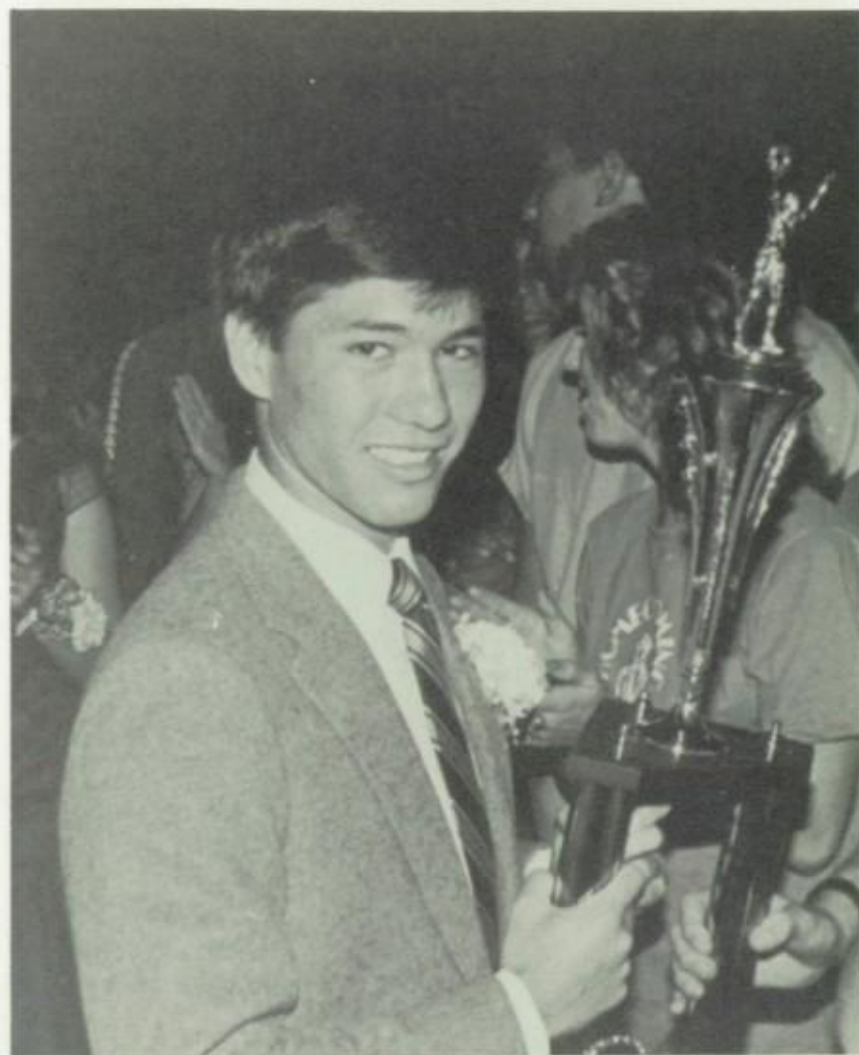

Brett Wyatt portrays a hillbilly directing the freshman class skit. In spite of such energetic participation, his class took the traditional fourth place during its first year of competition. Hang in there class of '89.

Freshman David Koppel, as Jesse Kiplanger, turns on his charm.

THE CHRISTMAS DANCE

Tasha Boutelis and Troy Ermish embrace in a slow dance.

Jeff Radack and Michel Harrosh pose for an informal portrait.

Laura Sapanara and Rafi Neiman take a brief break from dancing.

Stars twinkled and shimmered. Mistletoe and candles created a romantic atmosphere. The scent of pine trees and the aroma of pastries from the bakery filled the air. Tables with their white tablecloths and Christmas trees with strings of white lights bordered the dance floor.

The California Scholarship Federation had again done the impossible, transforming the gym into "A Starlit Christmas." Sponsored by CSF, this year's semi-formal Christmas dance had one of its largest turnouts, according to CSF secretary Michel Nathwani. And this year CSF officers invested their money in decorations from glass "stars" to white tablecloths rather than the usual decorations made by CSF members.

The highlight of the night was the crowning of Christmas queen. As a result of a tie in votes during two voting periods, CSF president San Tso and CSF activities coordinator Graciela Cabana were both crowned.

WINTER SPORTS RALLY

The Winter Sports Rally was designed to occupy upperclassmen while the freshmen took their competency tests and to promote student attendance at school sporting events at the same time. It was filled with such entertaining events as a wheelbarrow basketball game, a performance by the song girls and the dance drill team, and several variety show skits.

The game proved to be rather trying for the teams of wrestlers and basketball players, but amusing for the audience. And the skillful performance by the song girls and dance drill team demonstrated the prowess which has earned them so many awards in competitions this year.

Kristie Wang, Samantha May, Joan Yamamoto, Edith Toruno, Terri Reynolds, Suzanne Cicala, and Kristy Bricker prepare to entertain.

Activities Director, Mr. Tony Siacotos, as the official master of ceremonies, addresses the crowd.

Dave Kekic and Rob Thompsen rest for a moment before the wheelbarrow hockey game begins.

Juliana Spisak, Kerri Winters, and Kristie MacWilliams encourage attendance at the upcoming soccer finals. Mission eventually went on to take first place at the MVAL playoffs.

Mark Trice, Dave Kekic, and Rob Thompsen offer their thanks to those students who came out to support the wrestling team during the season.

INTERNATIONAL DINNER

As Spanish teacher Mr. Charles Merritt chats with a parent, student servers offer various international dishes to anxious diners.

On March 7, Mission's three foreign language clubs hosted their annual International Dinner. The two-hour event was attended by more than one hundred students and parents, and German Club president Karen Sindelar commented that this year's dinner "turned out much better than those in the past."

All of the food was prepared and served by foreign language students and club officers. The Spanish club provided enchiladas, rice, refried beans, and taco salad. French club members made Belgian waffles and quiche, and the German club served an authentic meal featuring cold cuts, potato salad, and cheese cake.

Those who attended were treated to entertainment by Mission students, such as a cancan line, a guitar solo by Amitesh Mishra, Spanish dancers, and an exhibition by the fencing club.

German club president Karen Sindelar occupies her command post in the kitchen.

Sherry Wei, Sheri Odom, Tracy Wei, Sona De, Jennifer Neetz pose before entering C-7 to entertain the guests with their version of the can-can.

Amitesh Mishra performs a guitar solo during dinner.

Magda Lomas performs a Spanish dance for the assembled diners.

MEXICANA CARAVANA

The official emblem of Caravana Mexicana.

Caravana Mexicana is a youth group of about 100 high school students who spend their Easter Vacation in Mexico doing volunteer work. The group is sponsored by the City of Fremont and is headed by a hard-working lady by the name of Ro Olivera.

This year's Caravan traveled to Puerto Penasco, Sonora, where they stayed at a fishing school. The trip involved a fourteen hour bus ride to the border, and a nine hour train ride from the border to Puerto Penasco.

Throughout the week, the Caravaneers did various useful things such as painting, building a patio lattice for shade, and constructing walls which turned into office rooms. All this work was done at a school for the handicapped.

After a long day's work, the Caravaneers walk to their rooms at CET del Mar.

Nicole Ruffin and Derik Anderson sneer at the camera as Kim Lawler also hams it up.

JUNIOR PROM

The Junior Prom was held early in April at the Claremont Hotel in Berkeley. Months of planning by the junior class officers, Pat Broun, Angela Chau, Anu Krishnaswamy, and Derek Fong, and weeks of preparations such as tuxedo-renting, dress-choosing, and corsage-buying culminated in a night of dancing in the hotel's Gaslight Room.

The evening was given the theme, "In the Air Tonight," and, indeed, this theme was quite fitting, for the evening air was filled with excitement and romance.

With thoughts of this evening of fun and elegance still lingering in their minds, the juniors now await their Senior Ball of next year.

Mrs. and Mr. Hentschke greet couples as they enter the Gaslite room.

Dan Folks and Kristy Regan boogie on the dance floor.

Doyle Brown and Julie Wellbaum enjoy some drinks and hors d'oeuvres at the Prom.

Angelie Sala, Jill Freeman, Becky Denny, and Jennifer Frei wait to have their pictures taken.

Jeff Henderson embraces date Deanne Powell in a slow dance.

ASB CONVENTION

Greg Beyrer asks for delegate support during his speech.

This year's ASB Convention was a contest between 24 candidates, a record number relative to previous years. Students rallied for the five open ASB positions, President, Vice-president, Secretary, Treasurer and Activities Co-ordinator.

Convention procedures were slightly altered this year. For example, delegates were elected in homerooms rather than by random sign-ups. First ballot voting was also changed. The general student body voted on the primaries in admin, and the results were tallied at the convention.

Last year a candidate needed a two-thirds majority to get on the final ballot; this year only a fifty percent majority was necessary to make the final ballot.

With a lot of hard work and dedication from Michelle Wong, Michele Nathwani, and Master of Ceremonies Graciela Cabana, the convention and election ran smoothly.

Kat Langeder, Steve Hanson, Tami Christie sing the National Anthem at the ASB convention.

Delegate Scott Rose hangs on to his stuffed animal for moral support.

Colonel Sanders, a.k.a. Dominic Ruiz, announces Kentucky's votes.

Lisa Derrick and Debbie Robinson tally votes at the Convention.

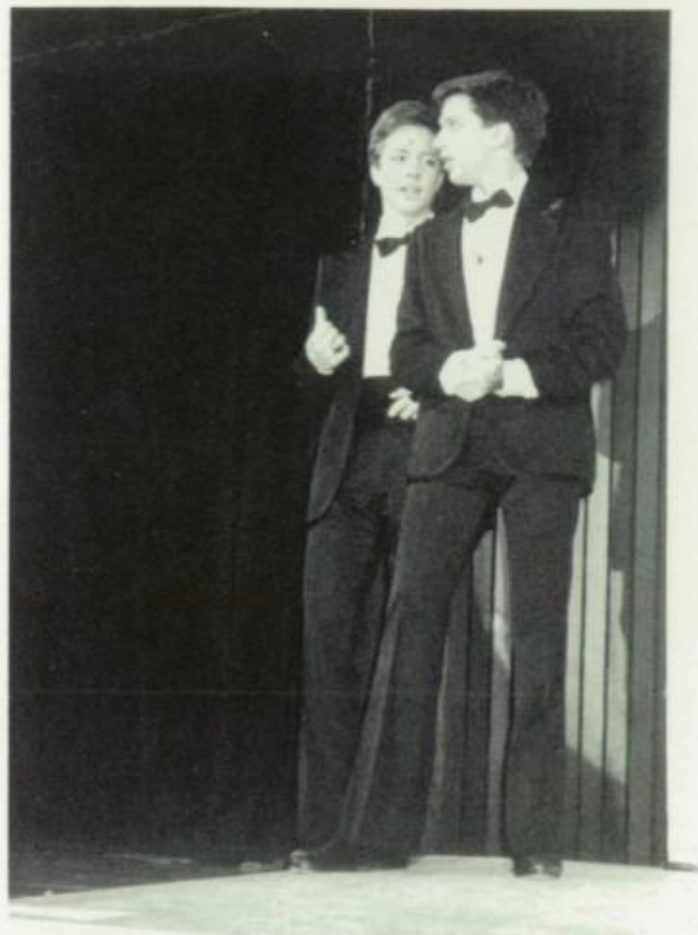

Angela Chau shows elation as Karen Fertik and Kiki Nakagawara congratulate her on her victory in the Primary Elections.

HOW TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS WITHOUT REALLY TRYING

Mark Trice and Shawn Freeman put on their stage make-up in preparation for a performance.

Actors Steven Hanson and Raul Esparza assume the roles of J.P. Finch and Bud Frump.

Dancing across the stage, Tina Holly, Misty West, Julie Lee, and Stacy Castello perform the number "The Secretary is not a Toy."

Raquel Soto plays the role of the boss' mistress, Hedy La Rue.

This year's Performing Arts Spring Musical was "How to Success in Business Without Really Trying." It proved quite successful, playing two weekends in April to sold-out crowds.

The stars of the show included lead player Steve Hanson, who portrayed J. Pierpont Finch, a man trying to scale the corporate ladder by pleasing his boss. Kat Langeder played the part of Rosemary, the loyal secretary in love with J. Pierpont, while Raul Esparza lent a villainous spark to the production as the boss' evil, aspiring nephew and Jr. Pierpont's main rival, Bud Frump. The egotistical and somewhat less than brilliant president of the company, J.B. Biggely, was portrayed by Jason Sparacino, who was well-supported by Raquel Soto in her role as Biggeley's mistress masquerading as a secretary.

Singing in harmony, Kat Langeder and Steven Hanson entertain the sell-out crowd.

A YEAR OF CHANGE . . .

The 1985-86 school year was a year of change. The Fall brought a new principal to Mission San Jose, Mrs. Sharon Belshaw-Jones. She brought with her a series of changes in policies and procedures. In addition, she also brought a goal which she called "Excellence Through Involvement." Autumn also gave us a new Athletic Director. When Mr. David Bray left for Washington High, Mr. Morley Freitas took on the job of maintaining the Warrior's winning tradition, which included defending the All-Sports Trophy.

But the administration was only a part of the changing school. New faces were seen scattered throughout the campus. The new year initiated the Class of 1989 to life at MSJ. New students were also among the returning three classes.

October arrived, and Spirit Week kicked off. The four classes competed against each other for the coveted Spirit Week Trophy. As the battle got underway, it became evident that the main contest was between the Juniors and the Seniors, who were very well matched. They battled constantly, but when the dust had cleared, the Class of '86 came out as the victor. Seniors Darin Rice and Laura Saponara were crowned Mr. Mission and Homecoming Queen, respectively.

Later on with the hard work of the Leadership Council and Mr. Tony Siacotos, students were entertained by numerous lunchtime activities, including an Air Band Contest, Apple Bobbing, and the infamous Eggstravaganza.

As Winter fell, CSF put on its annual Christmas Dance and it was very successful. The Boys and Girls Soccer teams and the Wrestling team also met a great deal of success in both regular season and post-season play. The Student Body honored MSJ's talented Winter athletes in a newly founded Winter Sports Rally where the athletes played Wheelbarrow Hockey.

April brought on the Junior Prom at the elegant Claremont Resort Hotel in Berkeley. It also brought with it the ASB Elections and the traditional ASB Convention involving a large part of the student body. In addition, April included the Spring Musical. "How to Succeed in Business Without Really Trying." The play was a smashing success, bringing honor to MSJ's fine Performing Arts Department.

In May the Seniors celebrated their four years as the Class of 1986 with a Senior Ball at the Sheraton Palace in San Francisco, their Senior Show, and Grad Nite.

The Class of '86 had met success both academically and athletically. When they graduate, they leave the lofty title of "senior" to the Class of 1987.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE STUDENTS

I arrived here in the U.S. On August 15, 1985, so I had a few weeks to get to know my new "family" before I started school. I came to America mainly because I had always been fascinated by its big cities and its famous television system with so many channels. It also provided an opportunity to learn about the difference between the young people in Norway and here, which are pretty interesting.

Just before I left Norway, I learned that I was going to California, so I consider myself pretty lucky not to have ended up in North Dakota or someplace like that.

Homesickness hasn't been any problem even though I was told that I would probably be homesick a little bit. Of course sometimes I miss my family and friends. I have enjoyed staying here very much.

Lynette Arnold
Sydney, Australia

Though Australia is similar to the States in many ways, there are also many differences. They are not all as obvious as language or religion, but more subtle, like driving on the opposite side of the street. I can't count the number of times I've almost died thinking I was in for a head-on collision.

Living in Fremont is very different from my city of three and a quarter million people. It's really unusual to wake up in the morning and see rolling foothills with no homes.

I am really proud to see the enthusiasm that the Americans show about Australia. Almost everyone I've spoken to is determined to visit my country, and some even want to move there permanently. If any of you students are thinking about applying for an exchange to another country, I highly recommend it. It will be one of the most rewarding years in your life.

It rains a whole lot where I live, so I love the weather in Fremont. I am not homesick, and I like America a lot.

I have already been asked about my experiences here by almost everybody I have met; still, even with these typical "exchange-student" questions coming ten times a day, it is great fun being an exchange student at Mission. I love the activities here, especially homecoming. And not even the daily school routine is that bad, which is much more than I could say about the school routine in Germany.

Mrs. Lane's Drama class is really fun, and Mr. Mattingly has a very amusing way of bringing government closer to his students. I lived with the super nice Cammerer family, and thanks to you all I had a great year.

One upon a time there was a young girl living in Holland. She lived her whole life in a small town where she went to school and graduated in 1985. She didn't know what to do, and she thought that Holland was boring.

In August of 1985 she left Holland to come back 10 months later with a lot of experience from another country; America. There in America she did a lot of things you couldn't do in Holland, but she also saw that America wasn't the country she thought it was. There were normal people there just as in Holland. Only, those people were more open. That little Dutch girl saw the world through different eyes, and she knew that she would come back to America someday to stay for a vacation. "Tot ziens" to all American people and exchange students.

Olivier Lucas

The class of 1986 is the best, of course. That's why we exchange students came here! The other classes are nice too, but they still don't have the little plus that makes the difference between them and us. We forgive them; maybe if they try hard, they will next year be as good as we are now. I like California, but I miss alcoholic beverages and my cat, who usually drinks with me.

When I go back to France I think I will miss blonds. They're nice, even if they're not natural! And I'll also miss Star Trek and Garfield, who is my mascot and should be yours for the U.S. or at least for one state. He's like Snoopy was some years ago. Last, I'll miss your huge cars with the teenagers behind the steering wheel and your freedom.

California is wonderful and so different from my country. I think what I like best is the weather! But, I also miss country across the ocean. But the classes here are very easy, the teachers are nice, and the students are funny. I'd like to thank all those American people who helped me have a great year here.

Before going back, I'm going to stop by Hawaii with all those seniors! I know it will be very fun and that it will add to my memories.

Now, when one of you go to Europe to see Paris or Italy or the French Riviera, you'll also have to stop by Belgium to see me.

I had the opportunity to choose several countries to come to, but I picked the U.S. because it has such a great influence on my country and other countries of the world. Like most people, I wanted to see if all the things I heard about America were true.

I believe it is important to learn and understand the American culture, people, and habits and the ways problems are solved. I wanted to be able to live with an American family, meet many people and make new friends. I can learn about their ways and share with them my culture and country. I knew I would miss my family and country. But as I hoped, this sad emotion is lessened by the joy of finding a second family and new friends.

I am having so much fun, and I have good friends and nice teachers. In Japan, I have to go to school on Saturdays, so I especially enjoy American weekends. I am having a lot of fun in my art and math classes because I enjoy drawing and working with numbers.

I had a lot of trouble when I first arrived here because I could not speak English, but there was always someone there to help me, my host parents, friends, the class secretaries, and my teachers. Everyone can make it if they try. So if you want to go to a foreign country, just go ahead. There will always be someone there to help you.

Inspiration. Come into my head. How am I supposed to fill this sheet of paper? I could always say that my family's hot watertap is absolutely fantastic. On the other hand, American mailboxes are stupid, ugly, and wimpy.

I miss surumejsel (real Finnish vodka). Well, now you know what to order when you visit the land of the midnight sun. Sun! As I'm talking about it — what happened to my dream about California sun? Here I come; I only packed a toothbrush and a bikini, ready for all those sun drenched beaches and surfers and all that. But it's freezing! You have destroyed one of my visions. Oh well, all Swedes are not blond either!

UNITY CLUB

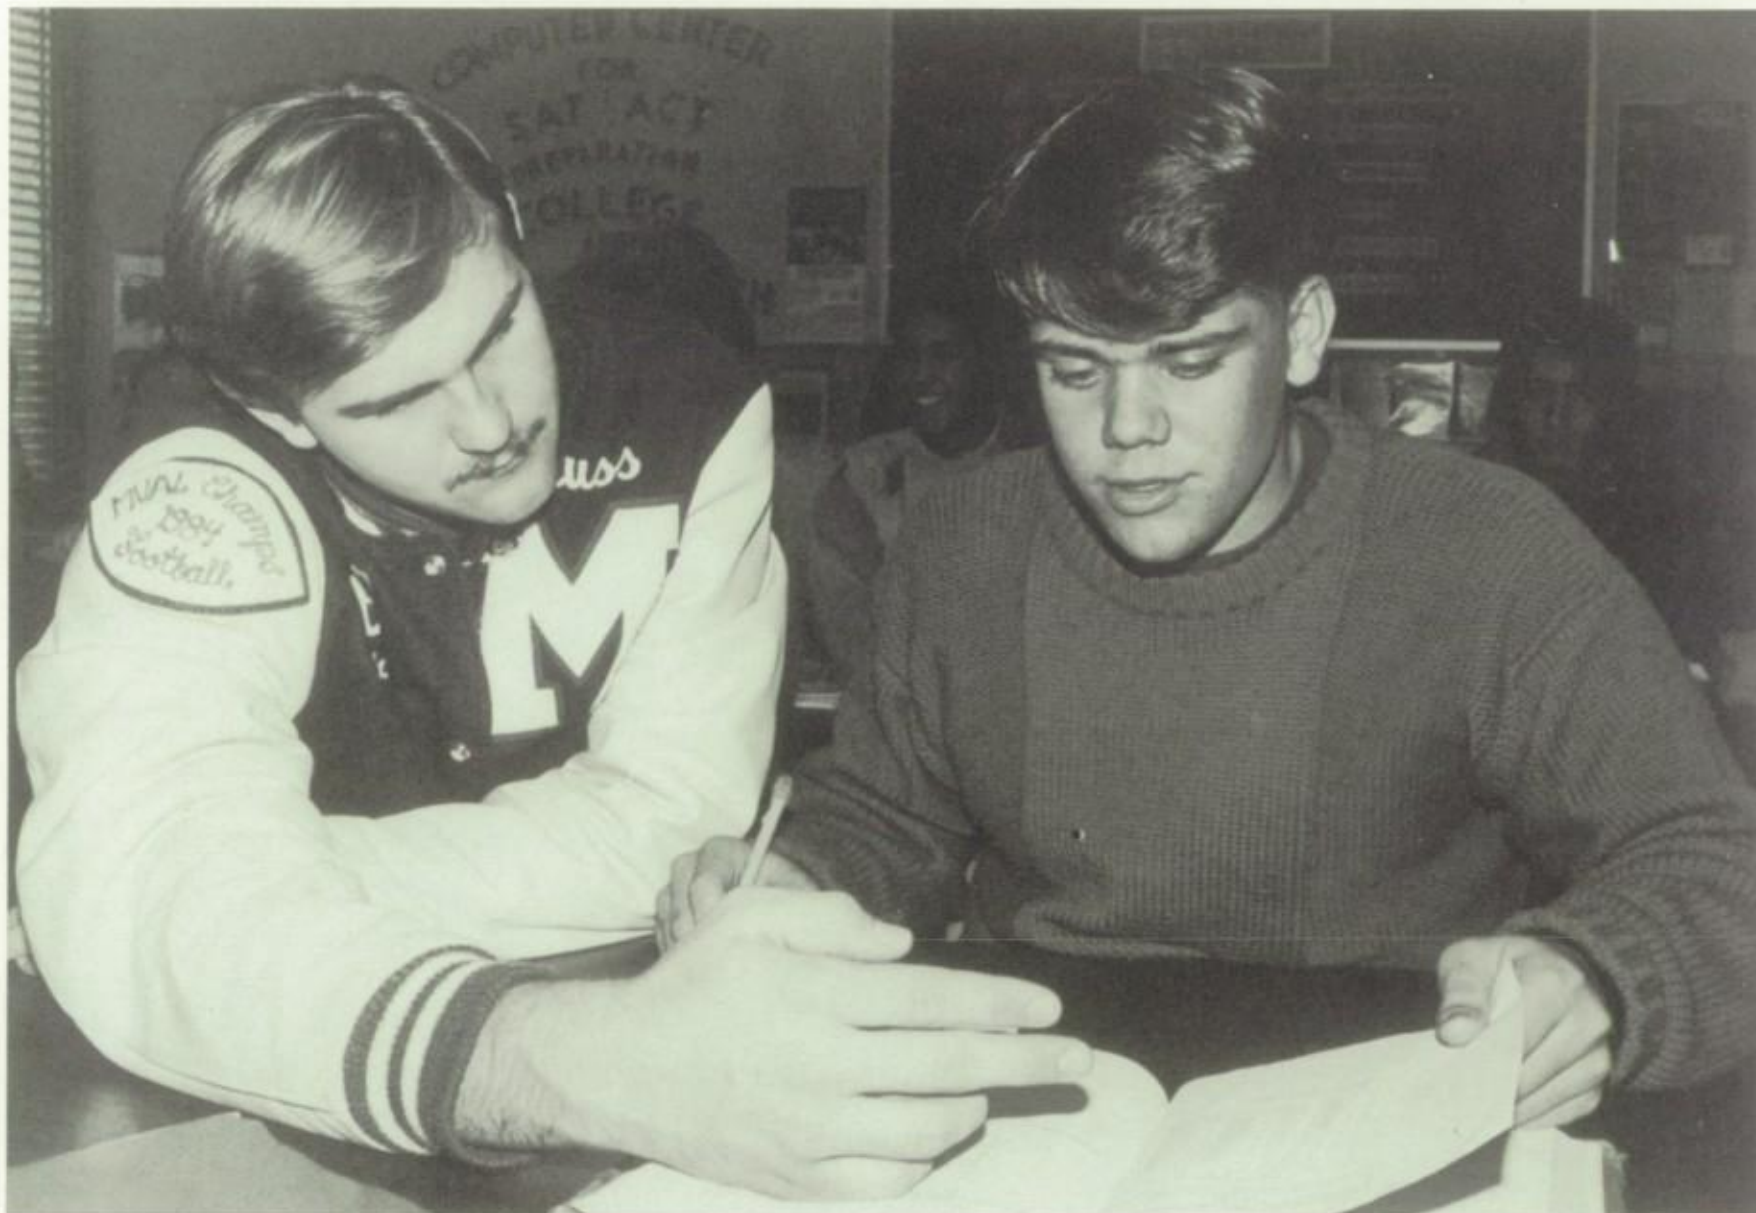

Unity Club co-president Laureen Powell and a resident of one of the convalescent homes visited by Unity Club carolers during the Christmas season embody what the club aims to represent: caring for others.

The Unity Club presented an assortment of activities and a lot of fun with Co-Presidents Karen Wong and Laureen Powell, Vice President Jim Snell, Secretary Craig Martin, Treasurer Melissa Au, Activities Coordinator Clara Ling, and Advisor Mr. Dave Duncan.

Unity Club's traditional activities highlighted the year. The New Student Reception welcomed new and foreign exchange students and introduced them to various clubs and organizations on campus. During the holidays, the Unity Club members sang Christmas carols and gave out homemade Christmas cards at several convalescent homes.

Though the Unity Club Tutoring Program, under the direction of Karen Fertik, Chris Ikehara, and Danielle Schroeder, members helped students who were struggling with classes. Meanwhile, plans continued for the club's biggest event, the Spring Festival. The task required months of early planning to coordinate each activity. The festival brought all the clubs and organizations together with booths for games and food. Emphasizing unity and togetherness, the club created a desire to help one another which contributed to a unified feeling throughout the school.

Russ Wynn gives help to Kyle Simeon under the Unity Club's tutoring program, another way of showing care for others.

With the majority of the club being new members, there is talk of adding a Forensics class to the curriculum in the future. Students would be able to increase their experience in the area of speaking and help to maintain the already successful Forensics team.

Students Against Driving Drunk (SADD) is an organization devoted to educating students to the dangers of driving while under the influence of alcohol. Advisor Mrs. Pat Mosely and SADD officers have organized a number of activities.

During spirit week SADD members placed posters around campus warning students that drinking and driving don't mix. In February an ex-alcohol abuser spoke to students on peer pressure and alcohol. In March SADD members participated in conferences in San Jose and Anaheim where they learned how to deal with peer pressure.

SADD also made an appeal to the city council for a grant to set up a student manned hot-line. President Angelie Sala said she hoped students would "not be afraid to call a friend for a ride if they are drunk."

President Angelie Sala and vice president Becky Denny put up a poster urging students not to drink and drive.

FENCING CLUB

This year marked the first time that fencing had been taught at Mission. Advisor Mr. Tom Rayman instructed his club in the 200-year-old sport Tuesdays and Thursdays after school. Dressed in protective masks, gloves, and bibs, students learned the rules, tactics, and exceptional coordination needed in fencing.

Shane O'Neil, with protective mask in place, shows that concentration is an important part of the sport.

Lunging forward, club advisor Mr. Tom Rayman demonstrates proper fencing form.

CLOSE UP

Close-Up participants Anu Krishnaswamy, two participants from Utah, Gary Quizon, and Alan Tubis enjoy a carriage ride through historical Williamsburg, Virginia.

Dwarfed by gigantic columns, Gary Quizon strolls through the Lincoln Memorial.

The Close-Up group, led by Mr. Mike Cox, went to Washington D.C. during December for a concentrated week of study with students from Kansas and Utah. They visited many monuments including the Vietnam, Lincoln, and Jefferson memorials. They attended seminars concerning the executive, legislative and judicial branches of government, as well as speeches given by liberal and conservative politicians. Almost all students from the three states were able to visit with a senator or a congressman. For the group of students who went east this year Close-Up proved to be much more than a tour of Washington D.C. Not only were they educated on the details of the government, but they had revealed to them another side of the system. This was the side of social interaction between people with different backgrounds and ideas and how they come to compromises between one another in order to live without devastating conflicts.

THE SPORTS SECTION

Cross Country stalwarts Tim Albert and Kevin Meeks pause to catch their breath after yet another Mission victory in distance running. It is an area of athletic competition where the Warriors have long reigned supreme.

Junior varsity football player Kevin Clark basks in the late afternoon sun as he begins a workout with a series of stretching exercises designed to increase flexibility and prevent joint injuries.

Demonstrating the intensity and dedication that she demands from her players, Coach Arlene Cooley issues critical instructions to the members of the junior varsity volleyball team during a time out.

VARSITY FOOTBALL

SEASON SUMMARY

The 1985 Varsity Football team struggled through a difficult year. After winning two non-league games, a winning season looked likely. However, MVAL rivals proved stronger than this young, inexperienced team, and key injuries contributed to the Warriors losing season. The team only won two of its six league games.

Despite this superficially poor record, there were many bright spots for Mission. Offensively, quarterback Kevin Chancellor led MVAL passing with 1101 yards, throwing to wide receivers Billy Christ and Tony Zuanich. Chancellor was protected well by offensive line standouts Sam McVay, David Simpson, and Russ Wynn, while Mike Triantos led the backfield attack for the warriors.

Tackle Russ Wynn and linebackers Jeff West and Ryan Randall led the Warriors defense along with Mike Triantos and Brian Fields from the secondary. The experience gained from this year and the myriad of juniors on the team leaves the Mission San Jose Football organization optimistic about the 1986 season.

GIRLS' CROSS COUNTRY

SEASON SUMMARY

This year's Girls' Cross Country team could very well be considered the best in Mission's history. The team's leading runners were sophomore Tammy Foley, juniors Kim Lawler and Lori Hill, and senior Kelly Poe.

The girls swept the MVAL, posting an unbeaten record, then extended their winning streak, taking first place at the MVAL Championships. The team then placed highly in NCS and the Meet of Champions to advance to the NorCal championships, only the second team in MSJ's history to accomplish this feat.

With the loss of only one senior runner next year, the already experienced team should continue to excel next season.

SEASON SUMMARY

This year's Varsity Cross Country team was a youthful one, led by sophomores Dennis Hernandez, Vince Munguia, and Mike Statz, all of whom competed on both the Frosh/Soph and Varsity teams throughout the season.

The Varsity team finished with a 2-4 record, placing fifth in the league. However, the Frosh/Soph team was much more successful, as once again they took the league title, finishing with a 6-0 record.

Coach Jack Marden attributed the Varsity team's lack of success to its youth and inexperience. But as the record of the Frosh/Soph team suggests, the future looks bright.

Mr. Marden, renowned for his excellent coaching skills, also singled out juniors Danny Bringer, Dave Muffson, Brian Wallage, and freshman Bill Stull for the impressive performances they turned in this year.

Additional support was lent by players Jessica Galbraith, Julianna Spisak, Kristy Regan, and Amy Bringhurst, all of whom worked well together and refused to become disheartened.

Supported by the strength of senior members Janet Severin and Sherri Harper, the team managed to defeat Washington, Irvington, Newark Memorial and Kennedy.

The team showed great potential this year, and with a number of experienced players returning next year, hopefully the 1986 season will be a successful one.

GIRLS' J.V. TENNIS

SEASON SUMMARY

The girl's J.V. tennis team rolled over their M.V.A.L. rivals once again this year in an undefeated 12-0 season.

Singles spots filled by Erin Jones, who also played Varsity doubles, and Gina Prosser, who was voted MVP, were unusually strong.

The doubles teams had great depth with as many as five quality teams vying for four spots each week. Top doubles teams were Sherri Wei and Mica Martin, and Tracy Wei and Stacey Foss.

Although many of the players will be promoted to Varsity next year, there is no reason why the J.V. will not be as dominating in the future as it has been in the past.

The team was led by senior Chris Martin, the M.V.A.L.'s leading scorer, who averaged nearly twenty points a game. The remaining starters included juniors Raymond Bobbitt and Anthony Terrell, and seniors Paul Banducci and team captain Matt LaFleur. BOYS' FRESHMAN BASKETBALL: Mike Frazier, Jarhome Buckley, Matt Hengle, Mark Eads, Mike Hardman, Craig Thomas, Dave McIntosh, Chad Hardman, Marty Wayne, Mike Bohi, Mike Gomez, Rodney Rodriguez, and Mike Kiester. Center: Coach Duane Jordan.

SEASON SUMMARY

Despite a rough start, this year's freshman basketball team compiled a league record of 6-6, leading to a respectable third place finish. Under the guidance of second year coach Duane Jordan, the team finished with an overall record of 13-10.

Key players for the Warriors included Mike Gomez, Marty Wayne, Mike Frasier, Mark Eads, and Dave McIntosh. The fact that this was their first year together and key injuries early in the season, contributed to the Warriors slow start.

However, midway through the season, the players matured and played together as a team. As a result, they ended the season strongly, winning the last four games. With the experience gained from this year, the team should do well as next year's J.V. team.

Seniors who contributed to the season were Janet Severin, Sherri Harper, Faith Santiago, Dawn Lowry, and Madelyn Nelson. Janet Severin and Dawn Lowry played consistently throughout the entire season, while Faith Santiago reached the high point of her play during the second half of the season.

This forced Mission to share the first place title with Logan. Regarding the controversial match, Coach Tom Tomsen remarked, "We beat Logan."

Coach Tomsen hesitated to name any individual star athletes for this year because, as he said, "They're all excellent." This year's team sent thirteen of its members to N.C.S. The standout for the season proved to be sophomore Mark Trice, who was named one of the most outstanding wrestlers in the U.S. Mark also advanced to N.C.S. finals and finished third in the state.

SEASON SUMMARY

The boys' soccer team this year earned its first ever N.C.S. berth. Because the Warriors had such an outstanding pre-season, they entered the M.V.A.L. regular season as the favored team. Pre-season expectations were not quite fulfilled as the team finished third in league, but the players rose to the occasion for the playoffs.

They destroyed the Irvington Vikings, 3-1, in the first round and posted another playoff victory by defeating the league champion Newark-Memorial Cougars the next night. The win was a dramatic triple overtime shoot-out game in which the Warriors ended up on top 3-2.

The Warriors, however, lost in N.C.S. play to the number one seed 1-0 to complete a brilliant season. Key starters for the team were Shay Wyatt, Lev Kirshner, and Darin Rice on offense, and Mike Caputi and Mike Montoya on defense.

The hardest hitters on the teams were co-captains Veronica Santos and Janet Severin, who was the one returning All-League player. Senior Sherri Harper, starting second baseman, was unfortunately sidelined with an injury at the beginning of the season.

Led by many fine swimmers, among whom were Jeff Noonan, Jim Snyder, Andy Stafford, Derek Fong, and Devin White, the mighty Warriors crushed their opponents week after week.

Besides dominating their league opponents, Mission swimmers were consistently ranked among the best in the South Counties. In fact, for a great part of the season, Mission San Jose had at least one swimmer ranked within the top ten in each event.

SEASON SUMMARY

Mission San Jose's girls' varsity swimming team had another incredible season this year. Returning coach Jan Frydendahl, towards the beginning of the season, was optimistic about the team's future, foreseeing an easily attained league title and good placement at the NCS Championships. His predictions proved true as the team logged away yet another outstanding season.

This year's team was exceptionally strong due, in part, to the efforts of returning swimmers Michelle McKowen, Debbie Robinson, Teresa Wade, and Jackie Campbell, all seniors; Jennifer Tremewan, junior; and two new freshmen, Nicole Real and Gretchen Dahla. The enthusiastic attitudes of the swimmers also contributed greatly to their overwhelming success this season.

In keeping with the winning tradition of the Warrior swim team, the 1986 boys' junior varsity swimming team took first place in the league this year. Coached by Jan Frydendahl and Bob Gould, the team benefitted from the guidance and expertise of these two men, and the unity, spirit, and skill of all the team members.

There was a great deal of talent on the JV team this year, as well as a great deal of depth. These two factors were partly responsible for the Warriors' winning season this year and, in all likelihood, they will lead Mission San Jose's boys' junior varsity swimming team to yet another league championship in 1987.

GIRLS' J.V. SWIMMING

SEASON SUMMARY

The 1986 girls' junior varsity swim team, in the inescapable Mission tradition, had another successful, victory-laden, and fun season.

Key swimmers Shelly Chandel, Candice Anderson, Katie Gerteis, Sheri Brown, and Nicole Martin played important roles both in the team's victories and the maintenance of spirited attitudes amongst their teammates.

Coach Jan Frydendahl also contributed to the success of the team, guiding the girls to an impressive record of six victories and no losses. His leadership and the swimmers' skill and enthusiasm provided for an exciting season.

Slicing through the water, Katy Gerteis leads MSJ on to another victory.

VARSITY BADMINTON

SEASON SUMMARY

With hope of a promising season, the Varsity Badminton team experienced a rough start with early losses to their toughest competition, Newark-Memorial and Irvington. Hindered by inexperience the young team held its own, nonetheless, throughout the remainder of the season.

Despite their disappointing record, the team played quite well, abetted by the excellent skills of veteran coach Mickey McBride.

Key players included Gary Quizon, Rob Thomsen, Anu Krishnaswamy, Dawn Lowry, and Kerri Winters, in singles, and, in doubles, Lev Kirshner, Faith Santiago, Janet Caires, and Alazar Santiago, all of whom contributed to Mission's many victories.

Senior, Jenny Jost smiles and awaits the opposing team's serve.

Senior Ralph Ritchie drops the shuttlecock in preparation to serve.

Girls' doubles player Janet Caires lunges forward for the smash.

Anu Krishnaswamy backs up to hit an overhead clear.

BOYS' VARSITY TENNIS

SEASON SUMMARY

Mission's boys' varsity tennis team captured its seventh consecutive league championship this year. The team's standings were 6-0, midway through the season; and Logan, supposedly Mission's strongest competition this year, was disposed of in a score of six games to one.

The team's strength was provided mainly by its extreme depth. There were four returning varsity players, and seven players from last year's champion junior varsity team.

The team was led by third year veteran, Jason Gilbert, at the mens' number one singles position. Gilbert placed first in the MVAL Championships as a freshman, and second last year.

Leading the team in mens' doubles was the number one team of Miguel Nathwani and Glen Sakamoto and the number two team of Mark Hillhouse and Mike Risolia.

Mission's number one singles player, Jason Gilbert, prepares for a backhand.

BOYS' J.V. TENNIS

Bruce Lin goes back to hit a smashing forehand.

SEASON SUMMARY

Once again, Mission's boys' junior varsity tennis team proved to be the strongest in the league. With seven victories and no losses mid-way through the season, they were on their way to another MVAL Championship, their eighth consecutive first place finish. Aided by the exemplary coaching skills of Linda Lile, the Warriors demonstrated excellent play in every match.

This year's squad was led by singles players Steve Sorenson and Eric Dahla, and doubles team Mike Mall and David Hunsberry. Since this year's varsity team contains no graduating seniors, the JV team should have many returning players next year, making it a favorite to take first place for the ninth consecutive year.

BOYS' VARSITY TRACK

SEASON SUMMARY

With four meets behind them, the 1986 varsity boys' track team had compiled a league record of 1-3, with their one victory against Kennedy. Although not outstanding as a whole, the team carried its share of stand outs.

Anthony Terrell excelled in the long, triple, and high jump events, Dennis Hernandez led the team in long distance running, and a young Marty Wayne proved to be competitive with the more experienced Jeff West in the shotput and discus events.

Tony Spellings also contributed efforts in the long and triple jumps and the 400 relay team, while Vince Munguia was another promising young distance runner.

This year's young team will lose only a few seniors due to graduation and can hope to improve its placement in the M.V.A.L. standings in 1987.

Dave Mufson works hard to win his distance event and help MSJ win the meet.

BOYS' J.V. TRACK

SEASON SUMMARY

The boys' junior varsity track team weathered a mediocre start to ultimately finish respectably. In their first four league meets, the team went two and two, literally crushing Kennedy and in a close meet with American High School, squeaked through with a victory.

Mission had a great deal of young talent on the squad this year. Freshman Doug Yamamoto was the team's outstanding distance runner, while Kevin Meeks showed definite potential as a 400-meter runner.

And finally, in field events, John Hudson provided support for the team as an excellent shot putter. Overall, the 1985-86 season was a promising one for the boys' junior varsity track team.

Sophomore Ken Lau outdistances the field en-route to a victory in the 800 meters.

GIRLS' VARSITY TRACK

SEASON SUMMARY

Talent abounded on this year's girls varsity track team. Led by Coach Steve Strangio, who had high hopes for the team, they, in fact, won their first four meets.

The top distance runners were Pam Brands, Tammy Foley, Lori Hill, Kim Lawler, and Kelly Poe. Rounding out the team were top sprinters Kirsten Fuccy, Sharon and Susan Krakowski, and Jennifer Pierce.

"We all push each other as a team, which I think gives us our success. Supporting each other is really important," said junior Lori Hill. This attitude prevailed throughout the whole team and coaching staff and was, undoubtedly, a contributing factor to the continuation of their winning tradition.

Pam Brands concentrates hard on winning while Kelly Poe keeps up the pace.

FADS

Randy Stuart and teddy model the overdressed casual look with sports jacket and T-shirt.

The decade of the 1980's has been filled with its share of fads — the Madonna look, antique-looking jewelry, and clinging clothing. Then there was the Miami Vice look of sports jackets and tees. Some popular items were Reebok tennis shoes and stretch pants. Pizza was ever-popular as was Cherry Coke.

Gia Martino is comfortable and fashionable.

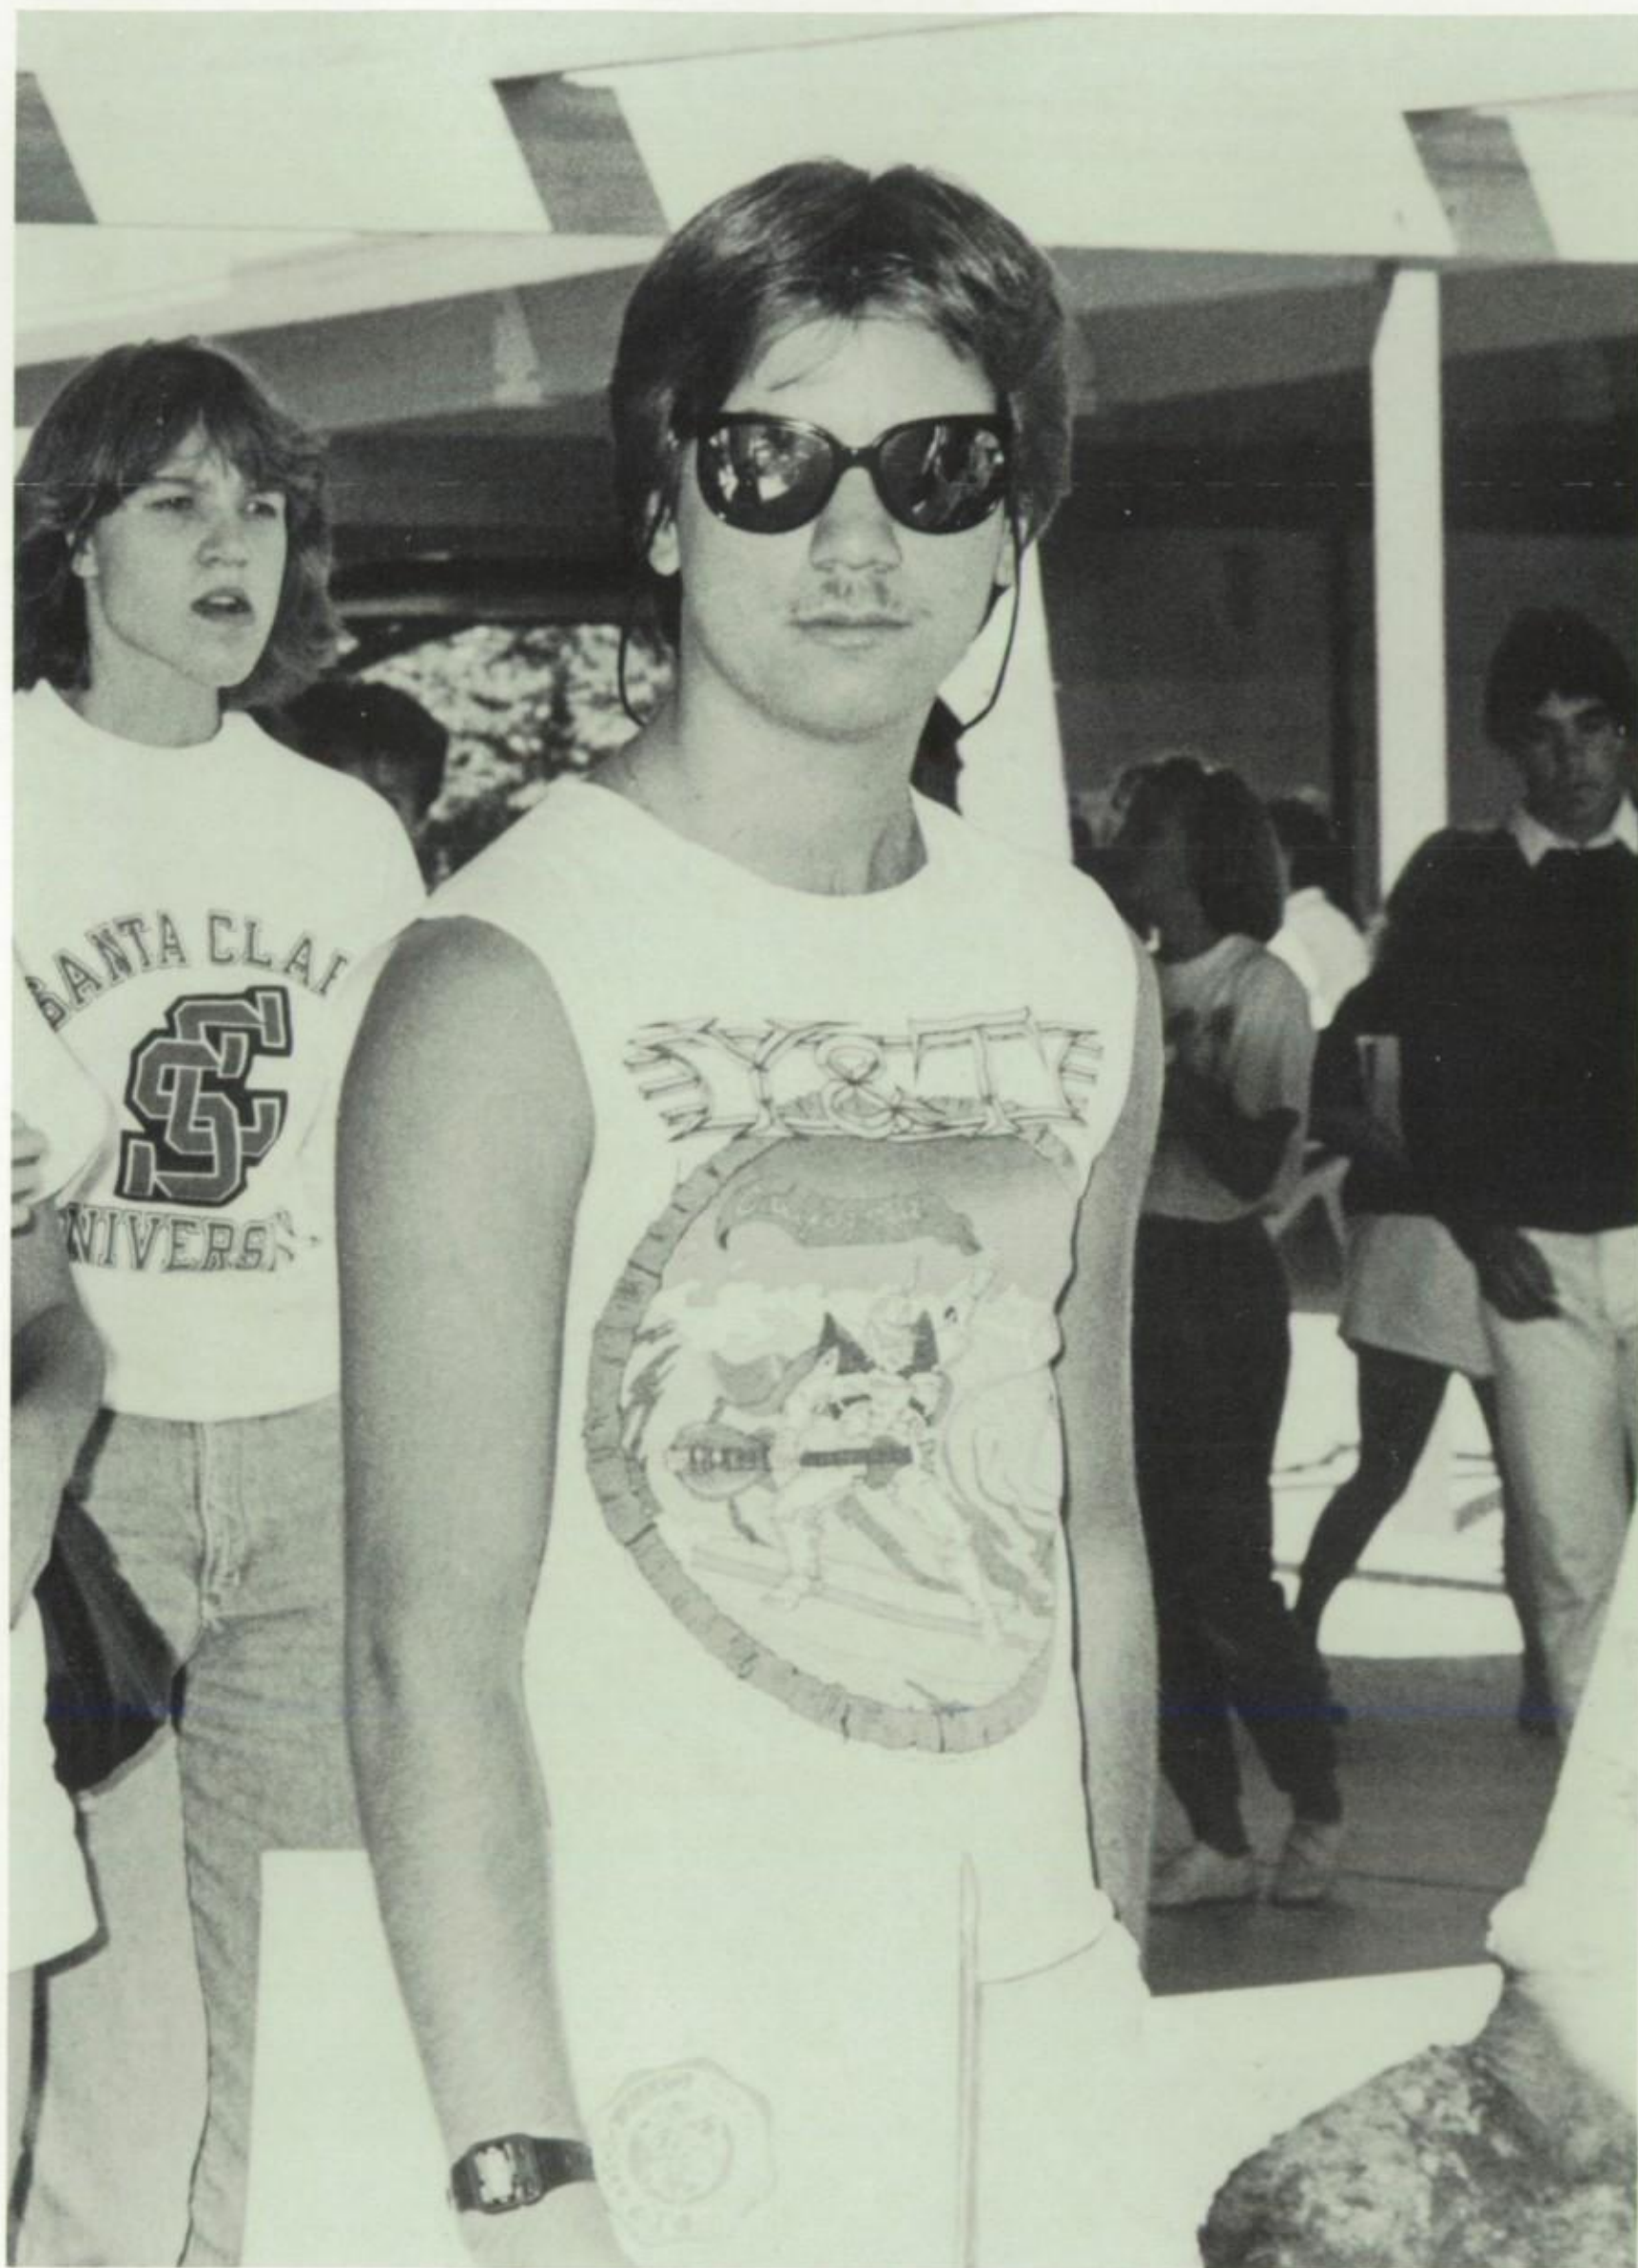

Jim Snell in his beach duds.

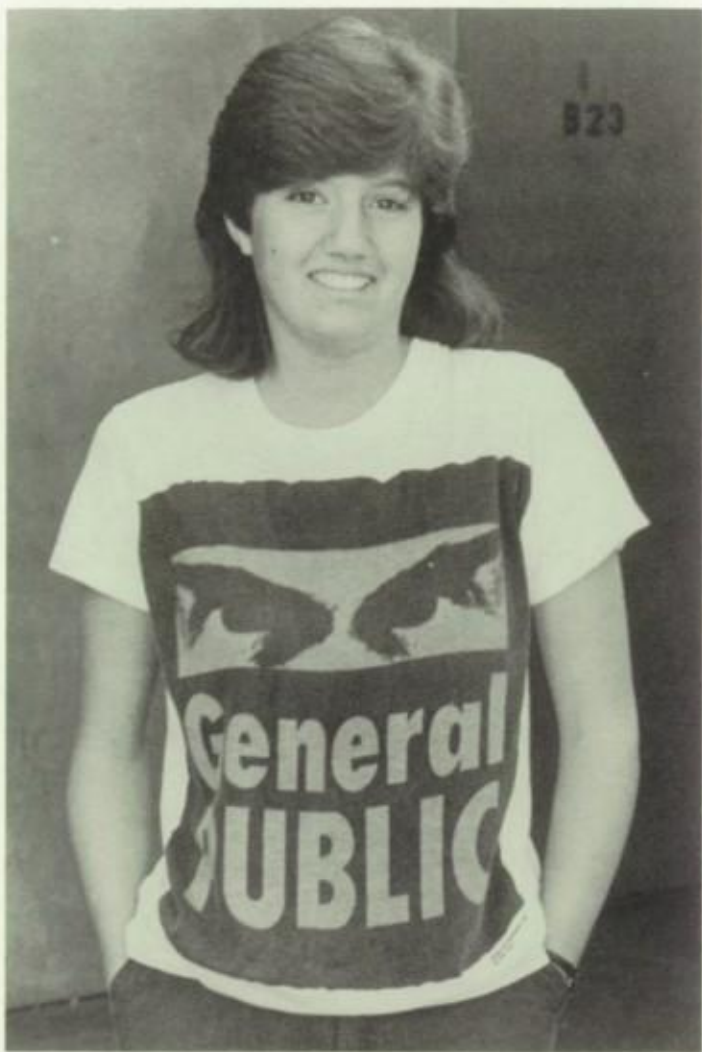

Danielle Schroeder models a classic backless dress.

Skateboards were a favorite mode of transportation. And groups such as Depeche Mode, Tears for Fears, Prince and WHAM filled the air-waves. Although Mission was saturated with fad items; everybody seemed to incorporate his own personal style into his dress. It was this flare that made it all happen.

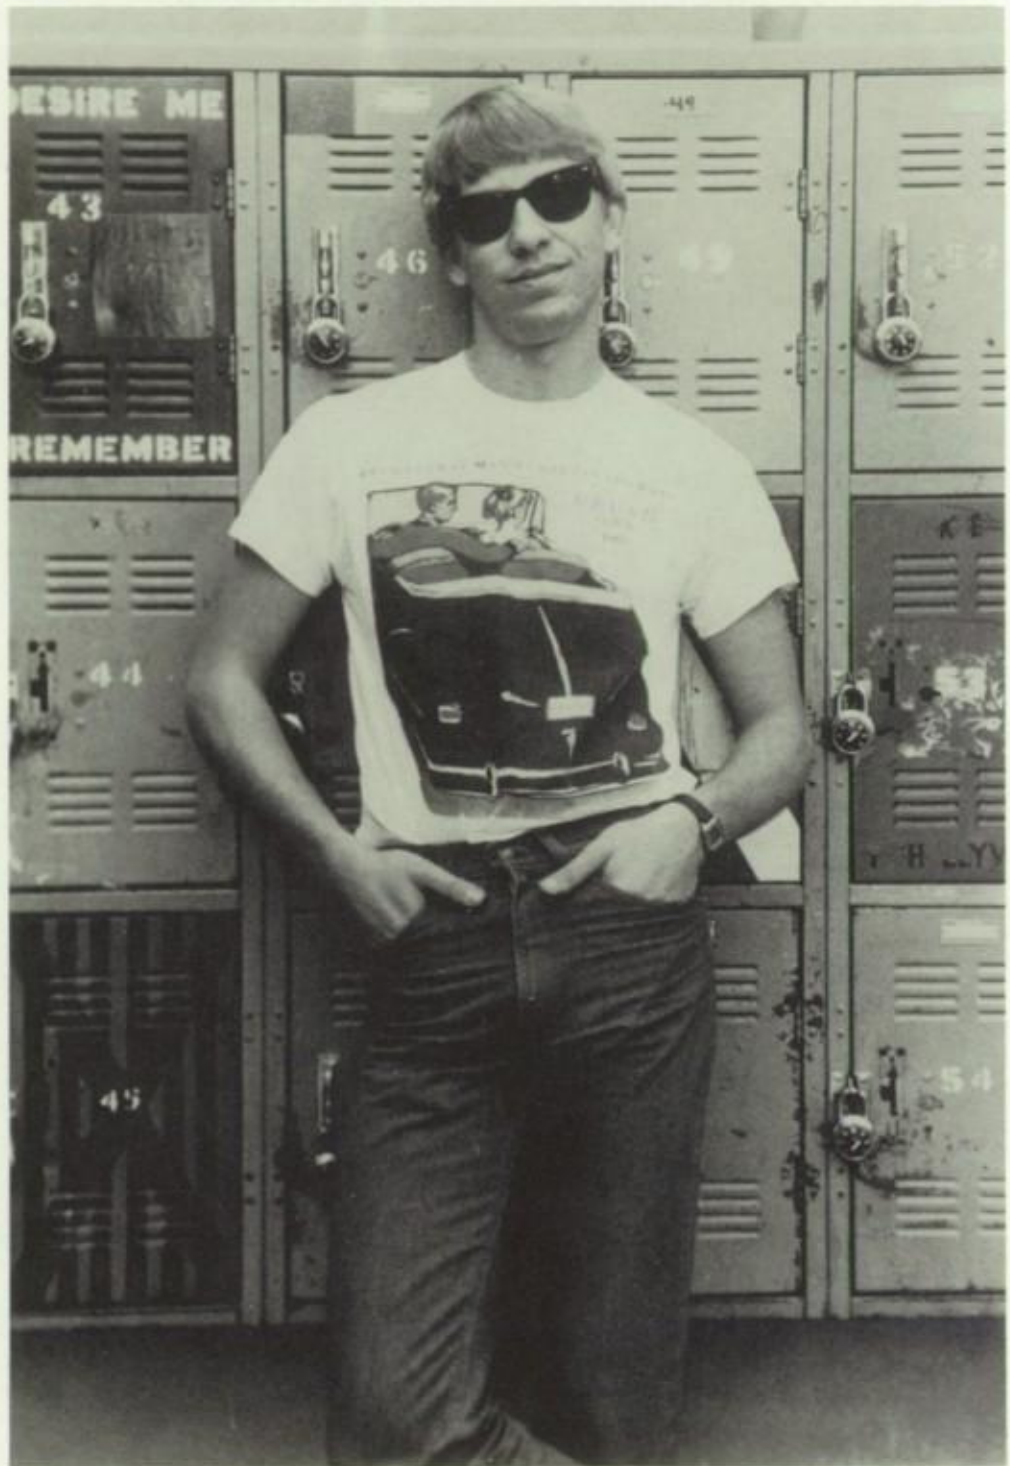

So Cool. Phil Gall, in typical rock 'n' roll gear, hangs out in the quad area at lunch.

JUNIOR CLASS

This year's Junior Class had many things to look forward to. They had finally become upperclassmen. Led by such fine officers as President Pat Broun, Vice-President Angela Chau, Secretary Anu Krishnaswamy, and Treasurer Derek Fong, the class was able to reach its potential in both class unity and spirit. With these qualities, the Juniors were able to achieve great success during Homecoming Week. With the theme Junior Hospital, they finished a close second to the Senior Class.

During the course of the year, the Juniors sponsored numerous fundraisers; among these were a Candy Sale, Carnation Sale, and the Valentine's Dance. These all proved to be extremely successful. As the year drew to a close, the class celebrated their Junior Prom with an enchanting evening at the Claremont Hotel Resort in Berkeley.

With the experience of three years at Mission San Jose behind them, the Class of 1987 anxiously awaits their Senior year.

This great Class of 1986 has been so special to me, and I really love everyone of you! You have all pulled together through sad and unfortunate times and many happy times, too. I'm very proud of you and wish you much success in your future.

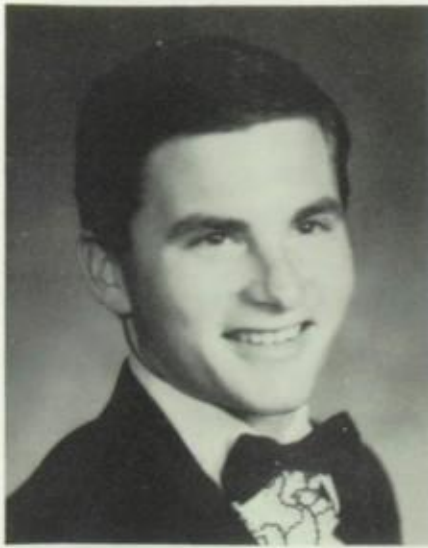

Please don't worry about making mistakes; you can learn from them, and in order to achieve success, one must know a little disappointment. Stand tall and be the best you can, take pride when taking your different routes toward your destination. Spread kindness, be fair and caring along the way of life and things will be easier for you.

You all have what it takes to succeed — for success is really within your reach — so "GO FOR IT!" — because success is not necessarily measured by material or political gains but by being the best at your endeavours. You all have your own unique personal attributes that will aid you in the important journey ahead.

We have many beautiful memories to share which will not be lost in time. May God bless all of you.

My love always,
"Mrs. Mac"

FRESHMAN YEAR

The Freshman year for the Class of '86 was a whole new beginning. This was the year in which we fell from the top of the ladder as eighth graders back down to the bottom of the ladder as Freshmen. This was also our first encounter with Homecoming. Under the leadership of President, Andrea Samford, Vice-President, Jenny Jost, Treasurer, Michelle Wong, and Secretary, Clara Ling we chose the theme "Hawaii." Although our class showed a lot of promising spirit, we came in a disappointing fourth place. This was also the year of new discoveries. Many of us participated in high school sports, joined clubs, and went to dances. Many Freshmen also encountered their first date by going to the semi-formal CSF Christmas dance. All in all, our first year at MSJ was really a great experience that will be remembered for a long time. And now that we survived our Freshman year, we all looked forward to becoming Sophomores.

SOPHOMORE YEAR

The Sophomore year for the Class of '86 was full of new experiences. Many of us reached our sixteenth birthday and finally got our driver's license. During this year, our confidence greatly increased and we really came together, as a class, for the first time. The increased involvement of our class became very evident in our shocking triumph of Spirit Week. This was the year in which the Sophomore and Senior "team" and Junior and Freshman "team" put on combined skits to promote unity. After our dismal showing the year before, we finally put it all together. With the theme of "Time-Machine," we flew back to the ancient past and danced into the future of "1999." The spirit of Homecoming carried on throughout the year and we remained on a permanent high! Overall, the year was really positive and we were definitely ready to become Juniors. The class officers for our Sophomore year were President, Anna Dallabetta, Vice-President, Michelle Wong, Treasurer, Clara Ling, and Secretary, Rachel Brown.

JUNIOR YEAR

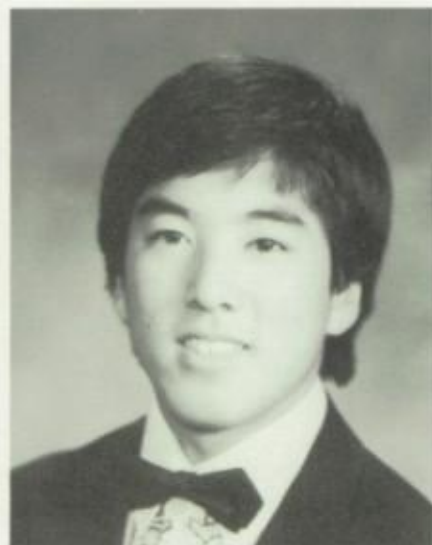

In our Junior year, the Class of '86 had its ups and downs. The two tragic events of the year were the deaths of fellow classmates Brandon Moore and Vince Tirney. They were both special students and we will never forget them. In addition, we found that our hardest academic year was suddenly upon us. With the theme of "Egypt," impressive props, and a well-planned skit, the Class of '86 came in a controversial second place in Homecoming, losing to the Class of '85. We boasted such props as a giant Sphinx, a massive Pyramid, and a Camel. Our skit included break-dancing, an Egyptian gig, and a successful capture of the "sacred" football. The officers our Junior year were President, Karen Wong, Vice-President, Darin Rice, Treasurer, Jocelyn Choi, and Secretary, Clara Ling. These officers worked hard towards the much anticipated Junior Prom which was held at the Hilton Sainte-Claire, in San Jose. Now that our Junior year was over, the best year was yet to come!

SENIOR YEAR

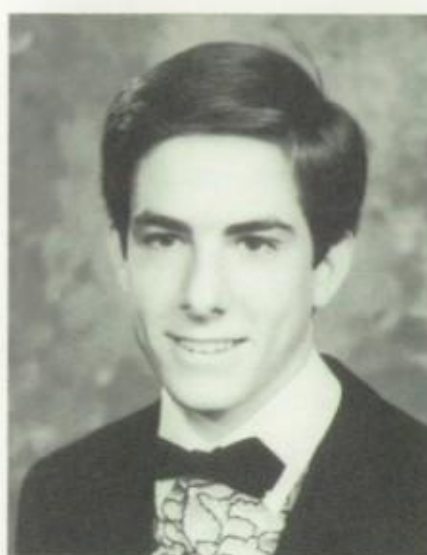

Our glorious Senior year started off with a dominant homecoming victory that was dedicated to Brandon Moore and Vince Tirney. With the 1920's our theme, we displayed such props as the "Spirit of St. Louis," a Model T, a whiskey bottle, and a flagpole sitter. Our skit was equally impressive as Dave Kazarinoff's diving catch capped off a brilliant Homecoming! With Homecoming over, college-bound seniors crammed to meet application deadlines. The senior activities for the year included such activities as Grad Night to Disneyland, the Senior Variety Show, and the Senior Ball. Our memorable Senior Ball, under the leadership of President, Darin Rice, Vice-President, Dave Arnold, Treasurer, Sheri Brown, and Secretary Clara Ling, was held at the Sheraton Palace Hotel, in San Francisco. Graduation soon arrived, and the end of our four-year experience became a reality. Everyone went his separate way and would forever remember the great memories of MSJ!

Special thanks to the hard-working members of this year's yearbook staff, the good people at Specialty Graphics, Portrait World, and Herff-Jones Yearbooks, my Fine Arts students who helped to identify people in photographs, Sandy Roberts, San Tso, the class secretaries, and the school administration. Their help was crucial.

Hey
Bobbette (haha)
yes, its finally over we've had some really great moments w/ Chris in our little hideout, reading comics and eating seeds, not to mention "cloves" - remember the bag?
Well at least we had fun. I'm glad we were friends, you're a real sweet guy, plus I can't believe how tall you've gotten and I hope you get everything you want out of life!
